1. What was the best part about using the online augmentation tools?	2. What was most difficult about using the tools?	3. Please rate, on a scale of one to five, how easy it was to access the content.	4. What device did you usually use to access the lessons?	5. How were the online courses different from your in-class courses?	6. Would you rather...	Why?	7. Please rate, on a scale of one to five, how likely you are to use online courses as a supplement to your in-class learning in the future.	If you could not access the tools, what were the main issues holding you back?	Which "Student ID" were you given?
It was different from class, more visual, helped me get stuff that I could not understand from my teacher	The time it took!!!!!!		A personal laptop or 4 desktop computer	It was very visual, and I could rewind it if I needed to on Youtube. I do a lot better with visual materials. It also broke down the terms from the books that I didn't get/write down in class.	Use online courses as a way to supplement or augment your in-class learning (like this study)?	I need my teacher, even though I don't get her all the time, and my classmates.		Time, Missed the e-mail that had links to 5 the tools	Student 1
Useful, helped me understand the little bit from class that I don't understand naturally.	Missing e-mails from Christian		Your school's laptop 4 or desktop computer	It had drawings and graphs that I could copy down to study. I do better when I do repetition and do the problems over. I used US History AP level to study with, which was different from class because it covered a lot more material	Use online courses as a way to supplement or augment your in-class learning (like this study)?	I wouldn't do an all online class, because I do well in school as it is. It was helpful for the parts I didn't get.		Time, Missed the e-mail that had links to 5 the tools	Student 2
Helped me study for the quizzes	Didn't have time to use them effectively at night		A personal laptop or 3 desktop computer		Use online courses as a way to supplement or augment your in-class learning (like this study)?	I don't think you can teach an entire class online, it would be difficult for me to get feedback on my work		Time, They were not sent to me/I didn't get access in time, Missed the e-mail that 5 had links to the tools	Student 3

What study skills and subjects does your child struggle most with in school?	Which study skills and subjects are you able to help them with?	What keeps your child from studying more?	If there was a high-quality, online "after-school" program or help line, how likely would you be to enroll your child and encourage them to go?	Which designation was your child assigned in this study?
He doesn't struggle with much, but has trouble following through with his studies and doing the extra that is required for him to succeed.	Not many, though he and his brother study together (they go to the same school). Me and his father try to keep him on task.	Other obligations (work, extra-curriculars, other community-based obligations like Church), An inability of those around the household to help them with specific subjects, [Editor's note - she said that he has many distractions in the house as well, such as video games and access to friends]		5 Student 2
She struggles with English and Math and often doesn't have the time or energy to study well. I can't help her study as much as I'd like to.	I do 12-hour workdays and her older brother is off at college, so we can't help her much. We've used Sylvan in the past to help her with Math.
